

WILDLIFE
WORLDWIDE

Small Group Tours

2025 | 2026

Welcome

We're delighted to welcome you to the latest edition of our Small Group Tours brochure, which is packed full of outstanding wildlife trips and exclusive voyages. Among the 200 hand-picked wildlife holidays are over 30 new trips – featuring some of the wildest and most rewarding destinations on Earth.

In Asia, a new trip to Thailand offers the chance of sun bear and melanistic leopard, whilst an in-depth exploration of Sri Lanka allows participants to fully immerse themselves in this beautiful country. In Africa, Ethiopia makes a welcome return alongside a new trip to Zambia's South Luangwa Valley with team member Helen Bryon.

Our collection of wildlife voyages continues to expand, with new departures to Baja California, Indonesia, and an exclusive Wildlife Worldwide expedition to Antarctica's Weddell Sea - a rare opportunity to encounter the majestic Emperor Penguins of Snow Hill Island.

For photographers, be sure to consider our dedicated new trips for Iberian lynx in Spain, coastal wolves in Canada and the latest iteration in our Festival of Bears with Mark Carwardine, which takes place in Finland in August 2026.

The demand for wildlife travel is higher than ever, so we warmly encourage you to book early and secure your place on your chosen trips. Visit our website for full details on all our holidays including day-to-day itineraries, tour reports and further insights into our naturalist leaders. Our easy-to-use online tour calendar makes planning and booking simpler than ever.

As always, our friendly team of expert wildlife consultants are on hand to offer advice and recommendations on your travel plans.

We look forward to welcoming you on your next wildlife holiday.

About Us

Our Group Tours

Travelling as part of a small group can be hugely rewarding, allowing you to meet like-minded wildlife enthusiasts and benefit from the expertise of a naturalist tour leader. We keep groups small for the vast majority of our tours – many are limited to just six people as we believe small group size is essential for maximising good wildlife sightings. Our range of group tours also includes our highly popular Festival of Wildlife groups, plus classic safari group tours and dedicated big cat, bear and whale watching holidays.

Photography Tours & Workshops

We also offer over 60 dedicated small group Photography Tours and Workshops to suit all abilities. Our collection of holidays has been designed to offer the perfect combination of outstanding wildlife viewing, exceptional photography opportunities and expert tuition. All of our holidays are led by expert photographers, most of whom have won awards for their photography and/or work as professional photographers, and have a wealth of technical skills and field experience.

Tailor-made Holidays

In addition to arranging small group tours we excel at tailoring holidays which allow you the freedom and flexibility to travel how, when and where you want to. The vast majority of our small group trips can be offered on a private basis, either as a small private group or on a tailor-made basis for individuals and couples. Contact our expert team to create a holiday to meet your exact requirements.

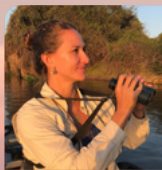

Meet Our Tour Leaders

Our tour leaders are all experts in their chosen fields, with a wealth of experience. It's their expertise, coupled with their flexible approach, that's one of the most important factors in the success of our tours.

Nick Acheson

Nick Acheson, a passionate conservationist, has worked with wildlife all over the world. He's an ambassador for Norfolk Wildlife Trust, a trustee for Pensthorpe Conservation Trust, and has cycled 1,900 kilometres researching material for his book, The Meaning of Geese: A Thousand Miles in Search of Home.

Manoela Bernardy

Manoela Bernardy, a Brazilian naturalist with 18 years of experience, has been guiding in both the North and South Pantanal, one of the most biodiverse regions in the world. Her passion for nature has defined her career, and she particularly excels at spotting and identifying bird species by their calls.

Chris Breen

Chris founded Wildlife Worldwide in 1992. A Geographical Sciences graduate, he began his wildlife journey as a safari guide in Zambia back in 1983, under Norman Carr's mentorship. Today he leads global expeditions and pioneers the Festival of Wildlife and Festival of Bears.

Helen Bryon

Having previously worked as a safari guide in South Africa, Helen now leads trips across the globe, with a particular focus on big cats and marine mammals. With her boundless energy and attention to detail, she's a very popular leader, creating memorable wildlife experiences.

Mark Carwardine

Mark is a zoologist, a conservationist, a bestselling author and a widely published wildlife photographer. He's also worked as a TV and radio presenter, a BBC Wildlife magazine columnist and a lecturer. Mark now leads exclusively for Wildlife Worldwide to a variety of destinations.

Bret Charman

Bret is an award-winning wildlife photographer with a background in the wildlife travel and safari industry. He has a particular interest in African and Australian wildlife and leads photography trips to Australia, Finland, India, Japan, Scotland, South Africa and Zambia.

Varun Devaraj

A popular naturalist guide, Varun has dedicated nine years to wildlife conservation and has a wealth of experience in leading trips across India. His passion began in the Western Ghats before later joining The Keystone Foundation and cutting his teeth in Satpura Tiger Reserve.

Mike Dilger

Best known as the wildlife expert on the BBC's The One Show, Mike has been an obsessive naturalist since childhood, equally at home identifying wildflowers in the British countryside, or surveying the Amazon for hummingbirds. Mike leads tours to Somerset, Scottish Highlands, Ecuador and Madagascar.

Ed Drewitt

Ed is a naturalist, author, broadcaster, tour leader, birder, photographer, bird ringer, zoologist, and a peregrine researcher. He has an engaging passion for nature and enjoys passing on his knowledge and often works closely with the BBC as a consultant and contributor.

Nick Garbutt

An award-winning photographer and zoologist, Nick's broad knowledge base derives from leading wildlife tours, presenting lectures, and authoring acclaimed books like '100 Animals to See Before They Die'. His work features prominently in National Geographic, BBC Wildlife, and others.

Terry Goble

An ecologist and lifelong wildlife enthusiast, Terry explores the interplay of plants and animals. His self-taught expertise in British wildlife was acquired through voluntary survey work and fundraising for various conservation charities, complemented by organising birdwatching trips.

Emma Healey

Emma is a renowned wildlife photographer and tour leader whose work has featured in a variety of magazines and media publications. With a passion for macro photography, Emma takes great delight in capturing stunning images of the smaller creatures that are often overlooked.

More Online

We're fortunate to work with many talented tour leaders and introduce just a few below – to find out more about all our leaders please visit our website.

View all tour leaders

Ashwin HP

Born in Karnataka, Ashwin began as a wildlife photographer and expanded into filmmaking and research, before moving into tour leading. With an encyclopaedic knowledge of India's fauna and gentle and engaging manner, Ashwin is a firm favourite with Wildlife Worldwide's guests.

Alex Hyde

A renowned macro photographer, Alex captures intimate portraits of insects worldwide, notably in the Austrian Alps, and the rainforests of Borneo and Peru.

He teaches workshops at prestigious venues and supplies images to major agencies, featuring in global publications.

Martin Kitching

Born in East Yorkshire, but having now spent more than half of his life north of the Tyne, Martin is a wildlife, photography and astronomy guide. He's a past author, and editor, of Birds in Northumbria, who's had a fascination with everything in the natural world around him since a very young age.

Kevin Morgans

An experienced tour leader, author and wildlife photographer Kevin has a passion for UK species. Best known for his award-winning work with Atlantic puffins, Kevin is most at home on the island of Skomer, but also leads trips to Scotland and the Falkland Islands.

Siti Slihahafarhain Saidin

Siti is known as 'The Bug Lady' due to her passion and expertise in the field of entomology. A skilled and experienced tour guide in Borneo, she excels at locating and identifying birds and mammals. A master with the spotlight, she has a knack for finding elusive nocturnal species.

Ben Sutcliffe

A wildlife photographer with over ten years' experience, Ben specialises in British mammals and birds. Shortlisted in top competitions, he's a passionate traveller, making him one of the finest young leaders in his field. Ben leads our UK photography workshop and tours to Skomer, Mull, Zambia and South America.

Ed Hutchings

Ed is best known for his wildlife journalism, contributing to publications including BBC Wildlife, Birdwatch, Birdwatching and Nature's Home. Ed previously worked for the RSPB at Symonds Yat Rock and has a background in wildlife conservation with a particular interest in raptors and bird vocalisation.

Alexa Kershaw

Alexa is an ecologist and cetacean researcher who blends conservation with guiding and wildlife photography. With 25 years' experience, she's conducted research worldwide and currently lives on the Isle of Mull, where she explores habitats for marine life in the Hebrides and Iceland.

Nick Mackman

An award-winning ceramic sculptor, Nick draws inspiration from endangered animals, capturing their beauty and personality. Her work is exhibited globally, and she has won multiple awards, including Wildlife Artist of the Year and The David Shepherd Wildlife Foundation Award.

John Muddeman

Based in Spain and with over 40 years' experience, John combines tour leading with writing and translating. An honorary member of the Extremaduran Association of Birdwatching and Wildlife Guides, his affable nature and extremely sharp field skills have earned him a loyal following.

Dembo Sonko

A seasoned birdwatching guide from The Gambia, Dembo has extensive knowledge of the region's flora and fauna which he has gleaned from leading group tours to the region for over 25 years. An easy going and joyful approach to birding ensures clients have plenty of fun in the field!

Sean Weekly

A multi-award-winning photographer, Sean showcases his work in prestigious publications worldwide. Formerly a Royal Marine, he found inspiration in Singapore's biodiverse landscapes which fuelled his passion for wildlife photography across South-east Asia, Australia, and beyond.

United Kingdom

From the vast wetlands of the Somerset Levels, to the rugged mountains of the Scottish Highlands, the UK provides refuge to a wealth of flora and fauna. Our expert-led small group tours are designed for anyone with an interest in the natural world and provide the perfect introduction to the UK's remarkable wildlife.

Costa Rica's Festival of Wildlife 2027

Join us in 2027 for Costa Rica's Festival of Wildlife, an immersive, expert-led journey into the heart of Corcovado National Park, described by National Geographic as "the most biologically intense place on Earth".

With exclusive use of a stunning eco-lodge overlooking the Pacific Ocean, explore this extraordinary corner of the Osa Peninsula on guided forest walks and small-boat excursions to Caño Island Biological Reserve, where vibrant marine life awaits.

This jewel in Costa Rica's ornate natural crown is a symphony of biodiversity. Towering ancient purpleheart trees stretch up to touch dawn as it breaks with the guttural, preternatural chorus of howler monkeys, the distant croak of red-eyed tree frogs, and the rhythmic rasp of a tamandua clawing into a termite mound. Sloths stretch awake in the canopy, jaguars and pumas move unseen through the undergrowth, and brilliant poison dart frogs gleam like jewels on the forest floor. With three per cent of the planet's biodiversity packed into a single national park, every moment hums with life.

Accompanied by expert naturalists, photographers, and artists, this Festival promises rare wildlife encounters, creative inspiration, and the unforgettable thrill of being exactly where you're meant to be.

Dominican Republic: Snorkelling with Humpbacks on Silver Bank

Join us on a voyage of a lifetime. Just north of the Dominican Republic lies the Silver Bank, named after a Spanish galleon that reportedly sank with silver in its hold in 1641. Today, the true treasure surfaces between January and April, when up to 3,000 North Atlantic humpback whales gather in these warm Caribbean waters to court, mate and give birth.

Over eight unforgettable days aboard a comfortable 38-metre yacht, you'll be surrounded by breaching giants, thunderous fin slaps, lobtailing and spy hopping. With expert guidance, you have the chance to enter the water and swim eye-to-eye, fin-to-foot with these gentle behemoths. Witness courtship rituals and the incredible interaction between mothers and their curious calves, experience the ethereal vibrations of whale song through your bones, and witness extraordinary behaviours few ever see.

Life on board follows the rhythm of the sea. Between snorkelling excursions, enjoy relaxed briefings from naturalist guides, share stories under starry skies, and soak up the wonder of this remarkable migration. This 8-day journey offers not only unforgettable encounters, but a chance to connect deeply with one of the ocean's most intelligent and awe-inspiring species, in their world, on their terms.

Falklands Wildlife Photography

The ultimate experience for any wildlife photographer, the Falkland Islands are home to some of the world's rarest birds and mammals.

Perhaps one of the best-kept secrets, these remote islands offer an astonishing abundance of wildlife, and the relaxed, untouched nature of the setting makes for the perfect environment for close encounters and spectacular photography. With a lack of big crowds or cruise-liner footfall, wildlife viewing here is often intimate and rarely shared with large numbers of people.

This comprehensive itinerary takes you across the Falklands with multi award-winning wildlife photographer and expert tour leader Kevin Morgans. Capture close-ups and dramatic action shots of the five species of breeding penguins that call these islands home, as they rear their young onshore and hunt for fish at sea. Or delight in the acrobatics of the largest congregation of black-browed albatross as they crowd the shores of their cliffside nesting grounds.

Head an hour offshore from Carcass Island to the spectacular West Point and discover a vast colony of albatross breeding and feeding along the island's rugged cliffs.

Sparrring elephant seals, floating sea lions, and dolphins surfing waves are also common sightings—perfect additions to a growing collection of diverse and unforgettable portfolio shots.

Baja's Ultimate Whale Safari

Embark on an extraordinary journey through Baja California's rich marine landscapes on Baja's Ultimate Whale Safari.

This immersive experience begins in Cabo San Lucas with a humpback whale watching excursion and a photography workshop. From there, we travel to La Paz, where, weather permitting, we have the opportunity to swim alongside the world's biggest fish, the gentle whale shark, and snorkel with playful sea lions at Espiritu Santo Island.

Board the luxurious Gallant Lady for a 3-night cruise through Mexico's Sea of Cortez, often referred to as "the world's aquarium". With the aid of a spotter plane, we search for blue and fin whales, large pods of dolphins, and, with luck, orcas and sperm whales. Enjoy guided hikes, kayaking, and beach walks, all while taking in the stunning marine environment.

A charter flight then takes us to San Ignacio Lagoon, where we stay in a luxury-tented camp situated in the heart of this natural sanctuary. Here, we venture out by panga boat for intimate encounters with grey whales, known for their curious nature and often approaching boats closely.

With expert guides and comfortable accommodations throughout, this safari offers unparalleled opportunities to witness Baja's majestic marine life in their natural habitats.

The Ultimate Snow Hill Expedition

Embark on an extraordinary journey to Antarctica's remote Weddell Sea. This exclusive expedition offers a rare opportunity to witness emperor penguins in their natural habitat on Snow Hill Island.

Departing from Ushuaia, Argentina, we navigate the legendary Drake Passage, keeping watch for seabirds and marine life. Upon reaching the Weddell Sea, the adventure intensifies as we traverse a landscape of towering icebergs and expansive ice shelves.

Weather and ice conditions permitting, helicopters transport us over the frozen expanse to a landing site near the emperor penguin colony. From there, a guided walk across the sea ice brings us within respectful proximity to observe these majestic birds as they nurture their young, a privilege experienced by few.

Throughout the voyage, expert naturalists, photographers, and guides enrich the experience with engaging lectures and workshops, providing insights into the region's unique ecology and history. Additional wildlife encounters may include Adélie, gentoo, and chinstrap penguins, in addition to crabeater seals, humpback whales, a variety of seabirds and possibly even Antarctica's apex predator – the leopard seal.

This 16-day expedition combines comfort and adventure, offering an unparalleled opportunity to explore one of the most pristine ecosystems on Earth.

Client Reviews

As a team of travel experts, helping avid wildlife watchers and photographers have incredible holidays is at the heart of what we do. Over the past year, we've sent fellow wildlife enthusiasts all over the globe, from photographing pelicans in Greece to encountering tigers in the jungles of India. Here are some reviews from our clients' recent trips.

"This was an amazing trip, greatly exceeding my expectations in terms of the accommodation and wildlife encounters - seven different tigers in nine separate sightings. A huge variety of birds of all sizes as well as primates, deer species, elephants and otters (on our river safari). I especially liked the small group size - six of us plus our local guide and a lodge driver in one vehicle, meaning we all had the same sightings and experiences. This was my fourth Wildlife Worldwide holiday with two more already booked - excellent support from the UK staff at all stages, with nothing too much trouble for the travel consultants. Highly recommended!"

Sharon T, Nagarhole's Tigers, Wild Dogs & Leopards – March 2025

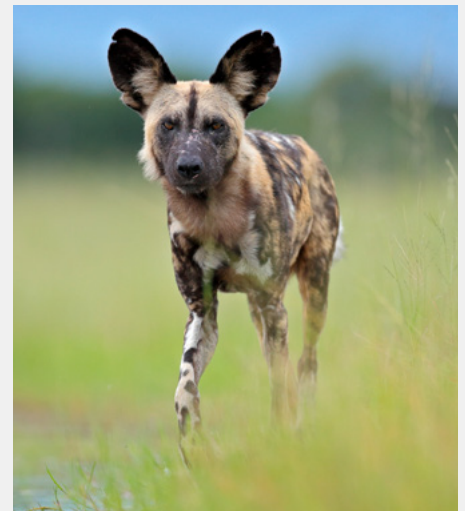

"Sean made every effort for us to maximise our chances of wildlife encounters with the right conditions for photography, and how to get the most out of our photo captures, or like me to try and see things from another perspective. Thank you so much and I cannot wait for the next trip!"

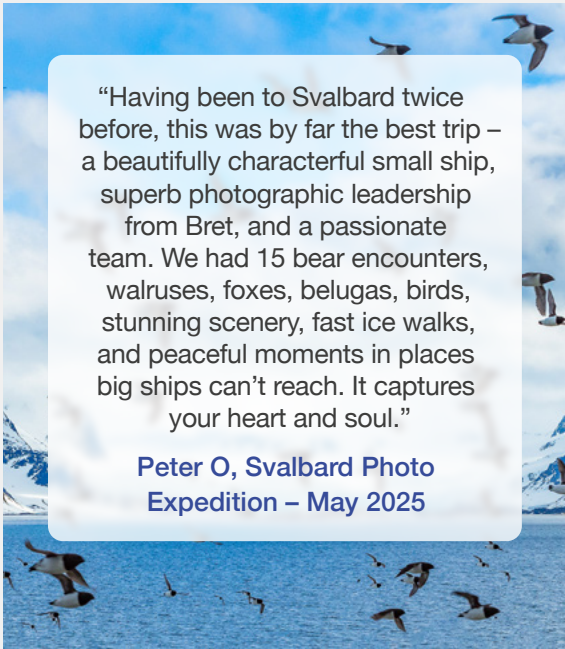

Emma C, Zimanga Wildlife & Night Sky Photography – July 2024

"We had an amazing holiday in Costa Rica with a small group of eight which was perfect for a guided wildlife tour visiting three locations. The trip was full on but well worth it! We saw sloths, monkeys many amphibians and insects and 166 bird species! The tour programme was very well put together and everything ran smoothly. The accommodation was excellent and the guides were first class. As a returning client I can recommend Wildlife Worldwide as a reliable, professional travel company offering excellent tours."

Lorraine M, Costa Rica's Wildlife Wonders – March 2025

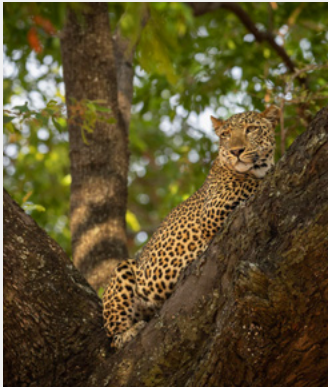

"Having been to Svalbard twice before, this was by far the best trip – a beautifully characterful small ship, superb photographic leadership from Bret, and a passionate team. We had 15 bear encounters, walrus, foxes, belugas, birds, stunning scenery, fast ice walks, and peaceful moments in places big ships can't reach. It captures your heart and soul."

Peter O, Svalbard Photo Expedition – May 2025

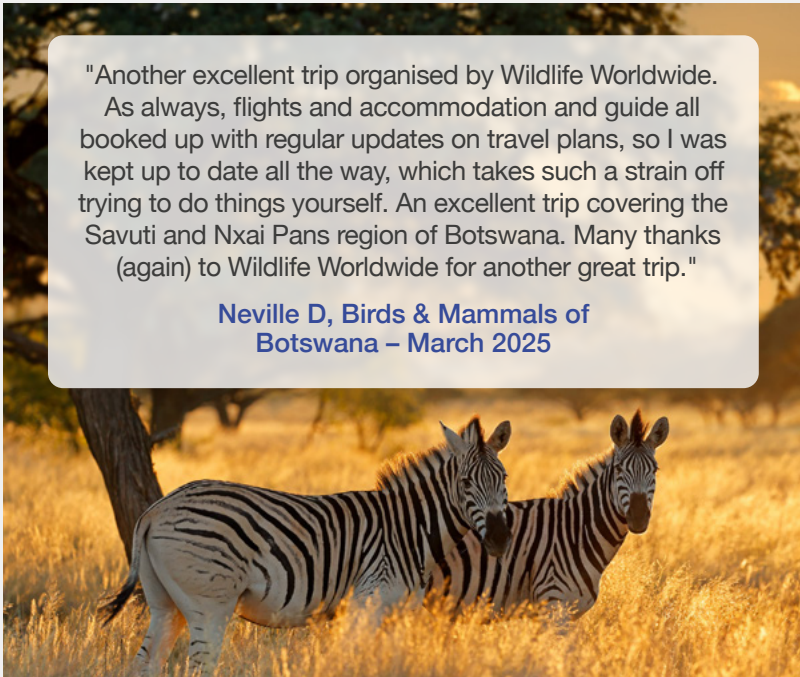

"Highlights were visiting a new continent (finally) and the opportunity to stay in several different locations with new animals and birds as well as landscapes in each. Local knowledge was great. The guides and drivers in all locations were excellent and the accommodation was of a high standard. Food was fresh and as a vegetarian I had a good choice."

Mary Ann L, Best of Brazil – June 2024

"The Dalmatian pelicans were spectacular. It was an amazing experience all round and one that will stay with me for a long time. Sean is brilliant! I couldn't ask for a better tour leader. He was extremely generous with his advice, pointing out photographic opportunities, selecting and processing images. I hope to work with him again in the future."

Anthony B, Pelicans of Lake Kerkini – Jan 2025

"Another excellent trip organised by Wildlife Worldwide. As always, flights and accommodation and guide all booked up with regular updates on travel plans, so I was kept up to date all the way, which takes such a strain off trying to do things yourself. An excellent trip covering the Savuti and Nxai Pans region of Botswana. Many thanks (again) to Wildlife Worldwide for another great trip."
