SMALL GROUP TOURS

2024 - 2026

WELCOME

I'm delighted to welcome you to the latest brochure for our Small Group Tours collection which continues to go from strength to strength. This issue contains an outstanding selection of trips and exclusive voyages offering excellent opportunities to watch and photograph wildlife. Among more than 270 hand-picked wildlife holidays are several exciting new trips to some of the greatest wildlife hotspots on Earth.

Close to home, we offer a week exploring England's South Coast to discover our incredibly rich indigenous fauna and flora. There's also an autumn tour to northern Finland focusing on the boreal forest's most iconic wildlife: brown bears, wolves and wolverines.

In the Indian subcontinent, you can seek out red pandas, rhinos and tigers. Meanwhile, our Antarctic Circle: Penguin & Whale Safari is a must for all who, like me, have been seduced by the marvels of Antarctica and the South Atlantic.

I'm also pleased to announce that our 2026 Festival of Wildlife will take place in the magnificent island destination of Madagascar, famed for its unparalleled selection of endemic mammals, birds, invertebrates and herpetofauna. Like so many of our holidays, our Festival trips always fill up far in advance of departure, so do reserve your place as early as you can.

We're fortunate to work with a network of exceptional professionals around the world, including experienced tour leaders, award-winning photographers, expert naturalists, and renowned writers and artists. It's often due to their personal attention and specialist field knowledge that the most memorable wildlife moments occur.

The demand for wildlife travel is higher than ever, so I warmly suggest you secure your place on your chosen trips before they fill up. With the launch of our online tour calendar booking has never been easier, but if you need any advice about your travel plans you can rely on our knowledgeable and helpful consultants.

We look forward to welcoming you on your next wildlife holiday.

OUR GROUP TOURS

Travelling as part of a small group can be hugely rewarding, allowing you to meet like-minded wildlife enthusiasts and benefit from the expertise of a naturalist tour leader. We keep groups small for the vast majority of our tours – many are limited to just six people as we believe small group size is essential for maximising good wildlife sightings. Our range of group tours also includes our highly popular Festival of Wildlife groups, plus classic safari group tours and dedicated big cat, bear and whale watching holidays.

PHOTOGRAPHY TOURS

We also offer over 70 dedicated small group Photography Tours and Workshops to suit all abilities. Our collection of holidays has been designed to offer the perfect combination of outstanding wildlife viewing, exceptional photography opportunities and expert tuition. All of our holidays are led by expert photographers, most of whom have won awards for their photography and/or work as professional photographers, and have a wealth of technical skills and field experience. For further details see our website or request our Photography Tours & Workshops Brochure.

TAILOR-MADE HOLIDAYS

In addition to arranging small group tours we excel at tailoring holidays which allow you the freedom and flexibility to travel how, when and where you want to. The vast majority of our small group trips can be offered on a private basis, either as a small private group or on a tailor-made basis for individuals and couples. Contact our expert team to create a holiday to meet your exact requirements.

FIND MORE ONLINE!

Our brochure features many of our small group tours, but for more information, please visit our website to find further trip ideas, detailed itineraries, tour calendar, the latest tour reports, e-news sign-up and events.

All holiday prices in this brochure are based on two people sharing a room/cabin, and include flights from the UK, wildlife activities, accommodation and transfers (except where specified *). Please note all UK based trips and most voyages exclude flights. Prices are correct at the time of going to print. For full details contact our expert wildlife team. Dedicated photography tours are indicated by the symbol 📷

Our Tour Leaders

Our tour leaders are all experts in their chosen fields, with a wealth of experience. It's their expertise, coupled with their flexible approach, that's one of the most important factors in the success of our tours. We're fortunate to work with many talented tour leaders and introduce just a few below – to find out more about all our leaders please visit our website.

Nick Acheson

Nick Acheson, a passionate conservationist, has worked with wildlife all over the world. He's an ambassador for Norfolk Wildlife Trust, a trustee for Pensthorpe Conservation Trust, and has cycled 1,900 kilometres researching material for his book, The Meaning of Geese: A Thousand Miles in Search of Home.

Chris Breen

Chris founded Wildlife Worldwide in 1992. A Geographical Sciences graduate, he began his wildlife journey as a safari guide in Zambia back in 1983, under Norman Carr's mentorship. Today he leads global expeditions and pioneers the Festival of Wildlife and Festival of Bears.

Helen Bryon

Having previously worked as a safari guide in South Africa, Helen now leads trips across the globe, with a particular focus on big cats and marine mammals. With her boundless energy and attention to detail, she's a very popular leader, creating memorable wildlife experiences.

Mark Carwardine

Mark Carwardine is a zoologist, a conservationist, a bestselling author and a widely published wildlife photographer. He's also worked as a TV and radio presenter, a BBC Wildlife magazine columnist and a lecturer. Mark now leads exclusively for Wildlife Worldwide to a wide variety of destinations.

Bret Charman

Bret is an award-winning wildlife photographer with a background in the wildlife travel and safari industry. He has a particular interest in African and Australian wildlife and leads photography trips to Australia, Finland, India, Japan, Scotland, South Africa and Zambia.

Varun Devaraj

A popular naturalist guide, Varun has dedicated nine years to wildlife conservation and has a wealth of experience in leading trips across India. His passion began in the Western Ghats before later joining The Keystone Foundation and cutting his teeth in Satpura Tiger Reserve.

Mike Dilger

Best known as the wildlife expert on the BBC's The One Show, Mike has been an obsessive naturalist since childhood, equally at home identifying wildflowers in the British countryside, or surveying the Amazon for hummingbirds. Mike leads tours to Somerset, Scottish Highlands, Ecuador and Madagascar.

Barry Embling

A keen general naturalist and dendrologist, Barry lived in Australia before returning to the Forest of Dean and Wye Valley, where he now shares his passion for nature working as a local guide and forest ranger. His travels have taken him worldwide, with a particular fondness for Europe and the Arctic.

Nick Garbutt

An award-winning photographer and zoologist, Nick's broad knowledge base derives from leading wildlife tours, presenting lectures, and authoring acclaimed books like '100 Animals to See Before They Die'. His work features prominently in National Geographic, BBC Wildlife, and others.

Terry Goble

An ecologist and lifelong wildlife enthusiast, Terry explores the interplay of plants and animals. His self-taught expertise in British wildlife was acquired through voluntary survey work and fundraising for various conservation charities, complemented by organising birdwatching trips.

Emma Healey

Emma is a renowned wildlife photographer and tour leader whose work has featured in a variety of magazines and media publications. With a passion for macro photography, Emma takes great delight in the capturing stunning images of the smaller creatures that often overlooked.

Ashwin HP

Born in Karnataka, Ashwin began as a wildlife photographer and expanded into filmmaking and research, before moving into tour leading. With an encyclopaedic knowledge of India's fauna and gentle and engaging manner, Ashwin is a firm favourite with Wildlife Worldwide's guests.

Ed Hutchings

Ed is best known for his wildlife journalism, contributing to publications including BBC Wildlife, Birdwatch, Birdwatching and Nature's Home. Ed previously worked for RSPB at Symonds Yat Rock and has a background in wildlife conservation with a particular interest in raptors and bird vocalisation.

Alex Hyde

A renowned macro photographer, Alex captures intimate portraits of insects worldwide, notably in the Austrian Alps, and rainforests of Borneo and Peru. He teaches workshops at prestigious venues and supplies images to major agencies, featuring in global publications.

Alexa Kershaw

Alexa is an ecologist and cetacean researcher who blends conservation with wildlife photography and guiding. With 25 years' experience, she's conducted research worldwide and currently lives on the Isle of Mull, where she explores habitats in the Hebrides and Iceland for marine life.

Martin Kitching

Born in East Yorkshire, but having now spent more than half of his life north of the Tyne, Martin is a wildlife, photography and astronomy guide. He's a past author, and editor, of Birds in Northumbria, who's had a fascination with everything in the natural world around him since a very young age.

Nick Mackman

An award-winning ceramic sculptor, Nick draws inspiration from endangered animals, capturing their beauty and personality. Her work is exhibited globally, and she has won multiple awards, including Wildlife Artist of the Year and The David Shepherd Wildlife Foundation Award.

Kevin Morgans

An experienced tour leader, author and award-winning wildlife photographer Kevin has a passion for UK species. Best known for his award-winning work with Atlantic puffins, Kevin is most at home on the island of Skomer, but also leads trips to Scotland and the Falkland Islands.

John Muddeman

Based in Spain and with over 40 years' experience, John combines tour leading with writing and translating. An honorary member of the Extremaduran Association of Birdwatching and Wildlife Guides, his affable nature and extremely sharp field skills have earned him a loyal following.

David Simpson

David has been based in the French Dordogne for over 15 years, many of which he's spent leading popular wildlife tours. Prior to this, he had a successful career as a warden in northern England and Mauritius. David has authored guides and articles showcasing his expertise as a naturalist.

Siti Slihahafarhain Saidin

Siti is known as 'The Bug Lady' due to her passion and expertise in the field of entomology. A skilled and experienced tour guide in Borneo, she excels at locating and identifying birds and mammals. A master with the spotlight, she has a knack for finding elusive nocturnal species.

Dembo Sonko

A seasoned birdwatching guide from The Gambia, Dembo has extensive knowledge of the region's flora and fauna which he has gleaned from leading group tours to the region for over 25 years. An easy going and joyful approach to birding ensures you'll have plenty of fun in the field!

Ben Sutcliffe

A wildlife photographer with over ten years' experience, Ben specialises in British mammals and birds. Shortlisted in top competitions, he's a passionate traveller, making him one of the finest young leaders in his field. Ben leads our UK photography workshop and tours to Skomer, Finland, Zambia and South America.

Sean Weekly

A multi-award-winning photographer, Sean showcases his work in prestigious publications worldwide. Formerly a Royal Marine, he found inspiration in Singapore's biodiverse landscapes which fuelled his passion for wildlife photography across South-east Asia, Australia, and beyond.

United Kingdom

From the vast wetlands of the Somerset Levels, to the rugged mountains of the Scottish Highlands, the UK provides refuge to a wealth of flora and fauna. Our expert-led small group tours are designed for anyone with an interest in the natural world and provide the perfect introduction to the UK's remarkable wildlife.

Antarctic Circle Penguin & Whale Safari

Join us on an unforgettable journey into the heart of Antarctica aboard the state-of-the-art vessel, Greg Mortimer. This small group expedition is limited to just 14 passengers, promising a relaxing, yet immersive experience with intimate wildlife encounters.

Guided by two Wildlife Worldwide tour leaders, Helen Bryon and photographer Emma Healey, we explore breathtaking icy landscapes in search of remarkable wildlife, including penguins, cetaceans, pinnipeds, and seabirds. Witness moulting penguin chicks, humpback whales breaching, playful dolphins, and diving leopard seals.

We've chosen to travel during peak whale watching season, when the whales are most active, granting us potential sightings of blue, fin, sei, orca, and humpback. As we thread through narrow channels and dramatic straits, we aim to cross the Antarctic Circle, a momentous achievement! With two dedicated Zodiacs for wildlife observation and photography, every excursion offers the chance to explore and take in our incredible surroundings.

Each day we retreat to our comfortable vessel, which boasts modern amenities, and two unique hydraulic viewing platforms, perfect for observing passing marine life and seabirds. Guided by our wonderful tour leaders, this journey offers endless opportunities for exploration and capturing stunning moments through photography.
